

Within your group, complete the following evaluation of your movie package. Justify all statements.

1. What was the theme of the movie? How was it supported by characters, plot, and symbols?
2. How did the poster reflect the end product?
3. What did the trailer accomplish? How effective was it in enticing viewers to see the whole movie?
4. How well organized was the movie? Discuss introduction, development, transition, and conclusion.
5. How well did you control the technical aspects?
6. In your eyes, of what parts of the movie are you most and least proud?
7. What were the hardest task to accomplish? What were the easiest?
8. Did anything unexpected happen?

Answer the following questions individually. Again, justify your answers.

1. What were the most important learning moments you had while completing this project?
2. How would you compare your moviemaking to your writing?
3. If you had to choose between being an author or a director, which position would you choose?